Customer Reviews

My little one adores kittens, babies and lifting flaps, so I hoped this would combine her interests. There are almost no images of babies inside the book, despite the cover. There are flaps, but the images of the kittens are quite small and hidden amongst other things. This is probably great for older toddlers who want a little bit of a puzzle. For younger babies who just want the surprise of lifting a flap and seeing something they like, it doesn't work as well.

I bought this book for my oldest son about six years ago, and he just loved it (we have a cat, and he loved our cat too). It's a wonderful book for little kids because they can participate by lifting the flaps, and they love the surprise of finding the kitten hidden underneath. The book has been out of print for a while, so I am thrilled to see it's available again.

My Korean in-laws love babysitting for my daughter. I'm regular old mixing pot American, but I really want my baby to get the Korean language and eventually heritage. We have 4 cats and this book is perfect..... the in-laws get to read a story to the baby in Hangeul and since they are not totally fluent in English... they are getting to practice their English too! It's a win for everyone! It could only be better if there was romanized Korean writing.... so I could practice my Korean. Please consider this for your future books. I know even more people would use these baby books for even adults to reinforce learning a foreign language. Thank you and "kam-sa-mida"!

When my daughter received these books as a gift it was hard for me to believe she would like them. Boy was I wrong. She ADORED them. Ages 9m - 15m were our sweet spot with these books and they made many plane rides bearable. I love the variety in the kids used, the simplicity of the photos. Plus they are fun. Where's the Kitten and Where's the Baby were our favorites.
