Customer Reviews

When my sons ages 6 and 5 were diagnosed with sensory integraton disorder, I felt like I had been thrown into an ocean with no life preserver. The "experts" who diagnosed the problem had no practical experience and so were unable to give me any practical advice. After lots of reading on the internet, I ordered resources remembering that I know my children better than the "experts" and as a home educating mom, I was in the best position possible to meet this challenge. I integrated Songames into our daily routine and have loved the results! The instructions included are clear and precise and we all enjoy our "Circle Form" time. I highly recommend this product for home use and I believe that it could be used to great advantage in classrooms also.

As an Occupational Therapist I was interested in using these CD's during therapy sessions. The songs are so horrible I can't listen to most of them from start to finish. Most of my clients have auditory sensitivity and the deep pressure calming song is nerve racking.
